

A photograph of the exterior of the Annebrook House Hotel. The building is constructed from rough-hewn grey stone. The central entrance features a large, arched doorway with a white-painted archway. Inside the arch, the words "ANNEBROOK HOUSE - HOTEL -" are inscribed in a semi-circle. The entrance door is dark wood with a brass knocker. A black wrought-iron railing with decorative balusters runs along the steps leading up to the door. A small, ornate black lantern is mounted on the wall above the door. To the right of the door, another similar lantern is mounted on the wall. A small green bush is visible in the bottom left corner.

Welcome to your Alternative Wedding at the Annebrook House Hotel

Situated in the heart of Mullingar, 50 minutes from Dublin, the award-winning 4-star Annebrook House Hotel presents a spectacular fusion of 17th century heritage with ultimate modern styling.

This romantic wedding venue offers flexible dining and drinking spaces centred around the tastefully renovated 17th Century Georgian House.

This truly unique Georgian Manor House with its private entrance and exclusive use takes pride of place on the grounds of our 4-star hotel.

This beautiful building is steeped in history and each corner of this cosy, welcoming and relaxed space oozes a distinct charm only found here at our beautiful venue.

Set within a backdrop of 10 acres of parkland where the Brosna River flows through but with all the practicality of being in a central location, the flexible spaces available ensure that you can tailor your wedding day to reflect your own personality, creating a special day that is as unique as you are.

We invite you to consider the Annebrook House Hotel as your wedding venue where the beauty of our venue, coupled with the assistance of our experienced and passionate wedding team, award winning food options and a friendly service will ensure your wedding day is everything you want it to be and more.

“Our day was perfect and so much fun”

Ashley & Damien

Your Wedding Ceremony

Say 'I do' with an intimate and personal wedding ceremony at the Annebrook House Hotel

To ensure your wedding day is stress free, Annebrook House Hotel is fully licensed to host civil, spiritual and humanist ceremonies onsite , alleviating the need for travel.

You need to give at least 3 months' notice to the Civil Registrar of your intention to marry. Civil weddings in Ireland are administered by the HSE, however you may choose a celebrant of your choice to marry you.

BARLOW SUITE

Our Cosy & Intimate Barlow Suite located in the Manor House is available for ceremonies of up to 70 guests. Flooded with natural light which brilliantly beams through our original 17th Century Sash windows and boasting three carefully restored fireplaces, this beautiful space oozes character and charm.

Fee: €150

Whatever type of wedding ceremony you envisage, from religious blessings to humanist ceremonies, at the Annebrook , we have established a reputation for expertly hosting and managing on-site ceremonies.

Your Welcome Reception

The 17th Century Manor House with its dramatic fusion of old and new and homely relaxed atmosphere is entirely yours for your private welcome reception. Here your guests can enjoy their own dedicated bar service, intimate spaces to relax in and beautiful surroundings full of character. Your welcome reception can consist of delightful afternoon tea style treats, delectable handmade canapes, cocktails of choice or sparkling bubbly.

“Would love to do it all again here”
